

I Claim:

1. An emergency alarm device comprising:

a housing having opposing front and rear sides, said alarm being fastened to a door or window that is visible from the outside and is obvious to anyone.

an emergency alarm device that is composed of front and rear sides that has a remote control and a manual control.

an emergency alarm device that having control to activate the alarm when the command is given by the remote control or manual control that will arm and disarm the alarm.

a signaling device coupled to the control circuit and responsible thereto to provide an audio visual alarm signal.

2. An alarm signal according to claim 1 wherein said alarm unit comprises two signals for immediate emergency rescue by emergency personnel or bystanders.

3. An alarm signal according to claim 2 wherein in said prescribed alarm is produced by an audio alarm signal.

4. An alarm signal according to claim 2 wherein said prescribed alarm is produced by a visual signal as to pinpoint the exact location that emergency rescue is required.

5. An emergency alarm device that can be activated to assume its armed and unarmed states by using a remote control or a manual control as a means of function.

an emergency alarm device that can be activated by a person that will produce a signal by sound or light.

an alarm triggering means including at least one sensor for activating the device upon receiving the command from the control switches

6. An emergency alarm device that provides a remote control for persons that are handicapped and may be kept on the person at all time.

an emergency alarm device that provides only a visual signal if needed without activating the alarm signal, such as a case of domestic abuse taking place or a robbery taking place and it is safer not to let the intruder know someone is in the house or area

7. An emergency alarm device according to claim 6 that may be adapted for use as is necessary to provide emergency assistance the quickest and safest way possible.

8. An emergency alarm device according to claim 6 that is powered by a battery source as to be operable during times electricity may be unavailable such as hurricanes, earthquakes, automobile accidents and numerous other occasions that are too numerous to list.
9. An emergency alert signal that is compatible to 911 to pinpoint exact location and dispatcher can be informed the emergency alert signal is activated to speed assistance for emergency personnel; whether it is fire department, police or medical personnel required.
10. An emergency alarm device that can be equipped with a code so only the device activated will send out signals, especially in the close proximity such as apartments, classrooms, offices and other close spaces.